HOW DID FOUR LEAF ROVER GET INTO THE PET INDUSTRY? When Four Leaf Rover founder Dana Scott's dogs were exposed to poisonous farm spray, she became obsessed with saving her remaining dogs from cancer. While researching the safest and most effective natural remedies with the world's leading holistic vets, Dana saw how one vet in particular was just as obsessed about safety and quality as she was. Dana worked closely with Dr. Patricia Jordan, who carefully and expertly formulated most Four Leaf Rover products. Today, Four Leaf Rover symbolizes a movement, a philosophy that every dog deserves access to products devoid of harmful or synthetic additives.

WHAT SETS YOUR PRODUCTS APART? We believe in visibility in every step of the manufacturing process. We source our own materials direct from the growers, we manufacture our products in our own GMP-compliant plant and we carefully store them in our temperature controlled warehouse. Every product is 3rd party tested to ensure your customer's pets enjoy a safe product - and we're happy to share the results with anyone who asks.

WHAT MAKES YOUR TEAM SPECIAL? The team stands by a heartfelt commitment: to treat every dog as their own. With an unwavering dedication to quality, an understanding of a dog owner's concerns, and a deep-rooted respect for the environment, we truly exemplify what it means to be forward-thinking in today's pet industry. So, the next time you're searching for a product that's not just good for your dog, but also good for our planet, remember the brand that promises and delivers both: Four Leaf Rover.

“Working with Four Leaf Rover is like having a trusted friend in the business world: quality products, a team that’s responsive and genuinely friendly. More than just business; knowing there’s science behind what they create gives us peace of mind.”
