In ROAM's own words

ROAM is proof that the good is in the wild. Beyond nutrition, we support our vulnerable ecosystems and our communities by building a more resilient and mindful food system.

Our sustainable, allergy-friendly, and ethically sourced novel proteins for pets are nutritionally wholesome without added growth hormones, antibiotics, chemicals, or preservatives.

Why did ROAM get into the pet industry?

ROAM entered the pet industry to provide pet parents with a healthier and sustainable treat/chew option. ROAM created novel protein products that are hypoallergenic, ethically harvested, and sustainably sourced promoting optimal pet health while taking care of our environment.

What's new?

At ROAM, we are constantly searching the globe for the next amazing, sustainable protein. We are introducing Rangeland Goat and Outback Wild Boar to our assortment. We are also developing exotic protein cat treats from scratch and we're excited to bring the health benefits of exotics to our feline friends.

What makes this product/ product line special?

Our proteins come from the world's most pristine and unspoiled regions, where animals roam freely in their natural habitats. Working with local communities, we're able to offer natural treats—untouched by industrial farming, nutritional as nature intended. With ROAM, you're choosing to support ethical practices, healthier pets, and a cleaner planet.
