In the brand's own words:

Longevity15[®] is a cellular wellness supplement for dogs powered by pure C15:0. It supports whole body health—heart, liver, metabolic, and red blood cell function—by working at the cellular level to help dogs thrive longer and healthier.

What is Pet's Best Life known for?

We're known for bringing human grade science to pet wellness—introducing the award-winning, patented C15:0 ingredient to dogs and focusing on true cellular health rather than symptom masking. Our science-first approach differentiates the category and builds shopper confidence.

What's new?

Longevity15 brings the fatty15[®] C15:0 healthy aging breakthrough from human science to dogs—offering retailers a first-of-its-kind, science backed cellular wellness solution that supports liver, cardiovascular, metabolic, and red blood cell health while elevating wellness sets.

Longevity¹⁵[®]

Each Longevity15 sachet contains greater than 99% pure C15:0 powder. Offer one packet per day.

What makes this product/product line special?

Longevity15 features pure C15:0—a crucial fatty acid dogs can't make and modern diets often lack—delivering targeted cellular stability and metabolic balance. Peer-reviewed research links C15:0 to healthier liver, cardiovascular function, glucose handling, and stronger red blood cells.

Longevity15 Display includes 2 each of all 5 sizes.
